Creating the Capacity for Change:

How and Why Governors and Legislatures Are Opening a New-Schools Sector in Public Education By Ted Kolderie

Only $14.95

Widely recognized for his work in education and innovation, Ted Kolderie examines the current state of K-12 education policy and offers thought-provoking advice on what needs to happen to inspire real change in America's schools.

An excellent blueprint to fundamentally change K-12 education in this country and why it must be done. This book should be required reading for every state legislator and governor who cares about education."

State Sen. Joseph Brush, R-GA, Senate Education Committee Chairman
